Sec.
222 Call and reservation phases continuous uncrossing

222.1 At the end of the Call and Reservation Phase, if the Liquidity Provider is present in the order book and at the end of the period RFE Borsa Italiana elaborates possible combinations according to the algorithm of Continuous

Uncrossing. The algorithm of Continuous Uncrossing classifies the proposals according to price and temporal priority progressively combining among them the best order in purchase with the best order in sale as long as they remain on the book proposals for matching trading. The price of each transaction results from the price of the proposal with the first temporal priority

- 222.2 If the matching results in a execution price outside the Liquidity Provider's quotations, this price will be adjusted to the Liquidity Provider's price; in the case of bid-only instruments the price limits are represented by the bid share of the Liquidity Provider and the Virtual Offer Price.
- 222.3 *The above price adjustments shall be made in accordance with the price limits and the type of proposal.
The Virtual Offer Price is defined in the Parameter Guide.*
- 222.4 If one of the Liquidity Provider's trading proposals is fully executed in the course of that process, the instrument will be booked after the completion of all the previous transactions already executed. Otherwise, the continuous negotiation begins.

Continuous trading with Request for Execution or RFE

2040	During continuous trading with request for execution, when an Intermediary enters an order that potentially matches the Liquidity Provider's passive quote or another passive order inside the Liquidity Provider bid and offer spread, a specific Request For Execution message is sent to the Liquidity Provider informing them that a potential execution could happen. The Request For Execution message sent to the Liquidity Provider does not contain any information about the incoming order which generated the Request For Execution message. The Liquidity Provider can update the quotes until the end of the RFE update period associated to each product. Issuers can choose among different lengths of the update period as indicated in the Guide to the Parameters. Upon receipt of an answer to the RFE from the Liquidity Provider, the matching algorithm is launched taking into account the RFE answer quote. If no answer to the RFE is received from the Liquidity Provider before the RFE update period expires, the matching algorithm considers the latest quote received from the Liquidity Provider. A Liquidity Provider quote matching a passive non-Liquidity Provider order will not trigger an RFE. Once the RFE update period has expired or a Liquidity Provider quote matches with a passive order, contracts shall be concluded, up to the quantities available, through the automatic matching of orders of the opposite sign displayed on the book and ranked according to the criteria referred to in Article 2026, as follows:
2041	The partial execution of a limit order shall give rise to the creation of an order for the unfilled quantity that shall remain on the book with the price and time priority of the original order.
2042	Quotes and Orders that are unfilled at the close of trading shall be automatically cancelled.

Trading in securitised derivatives on individual shares may also be temporarily suspended in the event of an auction of volatility on the underlying shares.

Bid-only before buy back continuous trading

Orders are displayed on the book and ranked according to the priority criteria shown in article 2026.
	2043.2	The entry of a buy limit order by a Liquidity Provider shall result in its being matched with one or more sell orders with a price lower than or equal to that of the order entered. Similarly, the entry of a sell limit order shall result in its being matched with the buy order by the Liquidity Provider with a price higher than or equal to that of the order entered.
	2043.3	In the event of a lack of buy orders from the Liquidity Provider, intermediaries are allowed to insert, modify or cancel the orders.
	2043.4	Should a sell order have already been displayed on the book and, subsequently, the Liquidity Provider issues a buy order with a price greater than that of the sell order, the matching will be at the improved price of the order issued by the Liquidity Provider.
	2043.6	Quotes and Orders that have not been executed at the end of the continuous trading will be automatically deleted from the system.
